

G+PS SPRING GRADUATE AWARDS COMPETITION | 2024-25

A number of criteria-based awards for the 2024-25 academic year are available to current and incoming graduate students at UBC. Annual Value: ranges from $150 to $16,000.

Important Notes

- The G+PS Spring Awards competition is not the same as the Forestry Internal Awards competition (please watch for that announcement in May)
- Course-based Master's students are not eligible for this competition.
- Please be aware of the competitive nature (UBC campus-wide competition) and very specific criteria of these awards. Do not apply for a specific award unless you fully meet the criteria. If it is a stretch, do not apply.
- Transcripts | Up-to-date, complete transcripts for all undergraduate and graduate studies (including studies undertaken but not completed) up to December 31, 2023. Official transcripts are preferred. Unofficial transcripts will be accepted in cases where applicants were not able to obtain an official transcript in time for the deadline. If an applicant is providing an unofficial transcript, it must still be authentic, complete and up to date. Contact the FRST Grad Office by May 6, 2024 to confirm if we have PDF copies on file. Requests made after this date may not be accommodated. forestry.grad-awards@ubc.ca
- Double-check your time-in-program eligibility. Do not apply if you are over the minimum months of registration as you will not be considered.
- Priority will be given to eligible candidates who do not hold significant scholarship funding (i.e., $16,000 or higher) for the 2024-25 academic year (September 2024 to August 2025)

How to Apply | Forestry Deadline: 11:59pm Monday May 13, 2024
